Change

Management

Training

Change excites people who love opportunities for growth, to see and learn about new things, or who like to shift the status quo.

All levels of management, supervisors and staff will have to be proactive in coping with these changes, which will affect the very culture and structure of the organization. In order to survive, the organization must be readily adaptable and responsive to change. However despite the potential positive outcomes, change is often resisted at both the personal and organizational level.

This workshop seeks to explain the need for change and to give members of the Change Team the practical skills to initiate, lead and manage change within their areas of responsibility.

In this three-day workshop, you will learn how to manage and cope with change and how to help those around you too.

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

At the end of the workshop, participants should be able to:

- Understand the importance of change management
- Different type of change management framework
- Develop a change management toolkit for implementing changes
- Develop a change management strategy or toolkit and plan to support organizational change and innovation
- Identify considerations and challenges when developing and implementing a change management program
